

Giovanni Papa

SYSTEMS ENGINEER

UX/UI Designer with a strong technical foundation as a Systems Engineer. My work blends user-centered design, creative direction, and front-end development. I'm passionate about crafting intuitive, accessible, and visually compelling experiences that drive engagement and results.

I've worked as a UX/UI consultant for companies in the tech and healthcare industries, leading user research, designing interactive interfaces, and building design systems. With a unique mix of design thinking and coding expertise, I bridge the gap between idea and execution.
